CONGRESS.

THIRTY-THIRD CONGRESS-PIRST SESSION

Senate, Thursday, April 6, 1854. Mr. Everett presented the resolutions adopted by the town of Dedham, Massachusetts, remonstrating against the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, and the introduction of Slavery to territory now free.

Also, the memorial of citizens of Gettysburg, unsylvania, praying that freedom of religious orship be secured to American citizens in foreign countries.

Mr. Clayton presented the memorial of the Agricultural Society of Newcastle county, Delaware, remonstrating against the passage of the Homestead bill.

Mr. Hamlin presented the memorial of G. B. Clarke, of Maine, praying that certain continental money held by him, be redeemed.

The following named bills were considered and passed:

A hill for the relief of Harriet Leavenworth dow of the late Brevet Brigadier General Leavenworth.

A bill to extend the limits of the collection district of Milwaukie, Wisconsin, and for other purposes.

A bill for the relief of Joseph Smith.

The Chair laid before the Senate a communication from the State Department, transmitting certain correspondence, called for by a resolution of the Senate, between the American Consul at Smyrna and the State Department, concerning the imprisonment of Martin Kowta. Laid on the table, and ordered to be

House of Representatives, April 6, 1854.

The Speaker laid before the House a communication from the President, transmitting the papers called for by resolution in relation to the Black Warrior seizure; which were referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs, and ordered to be printed.

Mr. Churchwell, by consent, called up the New Orleans and San Francisco semi-monthly mail bill reported yesterday, and addressed the House in support of it. A peculiarity of this bill is, that it proposes that the mail shall be carried by contract upon a progressive scale of compensation—the highest price to be paid for the quickest despatch.

Mr. Smith, of Virginia, also supported the bill with earnestness. He contended that enterprise was needed in the business.

Mr. McMullen oppposed the bill on various grounds; and, in the course of his remarks, it became apparent that the bill had not the hearty sanction of the Post Office Committee, who had formally reported it.

Pending the consideration of this bill,

Mr. Phelps, by consent, reported back from

Mr. Phelps, by consent, reported back from the Committee of Ways and Means the Deficiency bill, as returned from the Senate, with certain amendments; which was referred to the Committee of the Whole, and ordered to be printed.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole, when Mr. Preston, of Kentucky, said that there were two bills before the committee; one of them contains the Badger and the Clayton amendments. But in both bills is a declaratory repeal of the Missouri Compromise. The territory for which Governments are to be established is twice as large as France. There is no question in this day and generation of more importance. When the Union was formed, Slavery was not proscribed. The South came into the Union under circumstances that still exist. It has not assented to any change. He believed that the national flag change. He believed that the national flag would protect Slavery wherein no positive law

Nor did he deny the principle of squatter overeignty. Congress has authority over the ational domain—over a taminary ational domain—over a territory as over a ockyard, but not in derogation of the rights of the People. It was not proposed to affirm that Congress may not have power to interdict Slavery, but he was clear that it was a power that ought not to be exercised.

He concluded by expressing the belief that the bill will pase; and he appealed to Mr. Cuthis promise. If he should, the measure is safe.

Mr. Smith, of New York followed. He said Mr. Smith, of New York followed. He said the Slavery question was up again in Con-gress. It will not keep down. The President had tried to keep it down; members of Congress had humbled themselves to aid him. But all was of no avail. It will rise. This is not strange if we consider the power of truth. The grass will grow, the water run, and it is needless for men to attempt to control the morals of the world. Canute was wise compared with those who attempt this.

Truth is the power—that brings up the question. It lives and reigns forever. Every question in the eye of truth is unsettled, and must be agitated. Slavery will be an unsettled question until banished by Truth. Slavery is the hugest lie on earth. It makes chattels of man. In chattelizing man, it denies that man is man, and that God is God.

But he was opposed to the Nebraska bill be-cause it proscribes the colored man—because it excludes or prescribes the immigrant; thirdly, because it contains the deceptive idea of non-intervention. The bill does not recognise this.

Intervention. The bill does not recognise this.
It gives a Government, it limits the power of the people, and reserves to Congress the power of revising the acts of the people.
But if it did embrace the principle of non-intervention, he would oppose it for that reason.
The Territory belongs to the whole people, and their interference with it through Congress is as necessary as that a State shall govern each

Utah and New Mexico will not be exempt from Slavery because of any laws of, Mexico and it is equally absurd to say that Slavery existed in the Territory of Louisiana. Would the suttee and canibalism have been perpetuated in our Territories, because of any laws sanctioning them before their coming into our

It is wrong to charge those who oppose the Nebraska bill, with denying the right of self-government to the people of the Territories. The limited number who are to be there in the

The limited number who are to be there in the beginning, should not bind the whole people who are to succeed them.

But he was opposed to the bill because it would permit Slavery in the Territory. He did not denounce it because of the Missouri Compromise, for he never approved of that compromise. It was an injuntous compromise. It mise. It was an iniquitous compromise. It affirmed that men were men in one region, and without the attributes of men elsewhere. He in like manner denounced the Compromise of 1850. He rejoiced that the Slave Power had poured contempt upon them. They were, so to speak, compromises between God and the

In the fifth and last place, he was opposed to the bill because it admits that slave States may be formed out of the territories. The Anti-Slavery party were heretofore accused of having brought up this strife. Now, it is admitted that the Pro Slavery party has done it.

A voice: I do not.

Ar voice: I do not.

Mr. Smith. Indeed! It is a proposition to exend Slavery. Have the foes of Slavery done it!

He was gratified when Mr. Wright, of Ponn-

He was gratified when Mr. Wright, of Foursylvania, and Mr. Clingman, expressed themsolves in favor of agitation. He rejoiced at the prospect of continued agitation.

The subject would now be discussed, and the title of Slavery would be tested! The original number of States was but thirteer.
There are now fifteen slave States. It is time the aggressor should be repelled. Slavery is nothing but an aggressor—an aggressor on all that is good.

Slavery and Liberty cannot dwell together.

Superson of quake was experienced there on the 17th ult. Buildings were rocked to and fro, and ships in the harbor shaken. all that is good.

Slavery and Liberty cannot dwell together.

There must be a conquest of one.

If what is now demanded for Slavery — the fugitive returned, the Lemmon property returned, and the Territories enslaved—Liberty must perish.

He denied that Slavery could exist in the States to be formed out of the territory in dispute; affirmed that it could not constitutionally exist anywhere.

Standing alone here and speaking for himself, he proclaimed all his opinions, claiming no colleague but truth, and asking none to share his responsibility, Mr. Smith was still speaking when our re-

We shall sell cheaper than we ever have done; and in having one price only (which, in our opinion, is the only fair and equitable way of doing business) we shall maintain our self-respect, which is above all price or success. Moreover, we expect to retain all the trade of those prompt customers who have made their purchases of us for some years past, and doubtless we shall have a large accession of new customers, who prefer to buy where one fair price only is asked.

We feel that our simple word is requisite only to satisfy our former customers that the one price system is the correct one, and to their advantage; and we do not hesitate to assert our belief that all candid and intelligent persons will, after an impartial examination of prices, fabric, and styles, give a one price store the preference. Those who are not judges of goods cannot fail to be impressed at once with the manifold and vast advantages to the purchaser resulting from the adoption in good faith of the one price system; it necessarily insures low prices to the purchaser, for it becomes absolutely necessary to meet at the start all competition that can be offered in prices.

To those persons who may visit Washington, and are in want of a boot that cannot be excelled, either in quality or workmanship, we would call their attention to the card of Henry Janney, to be found under the head of "Washington." A handsome and neatly-made boot is not at all times a source of pleasure to the wearer, but often one of extreme torture; this is caused by the bungling manner in which the boot is fitted to the foot. Mr. Janney has devoted much of his time in studying the construction of the human foot, in order to ascertain how a boot should be cut and fitted, that will be perfectly easy to all parts of the foot. In this be has succeeded, so that it matters not what may be the shape of, or the number of corns on the foot, his boot is perfectly easy. Thus he has combined beauty with comfort.

FARM NEAR WASHINGTON FOR SALE

THE subscriber offers for sale his Farm, situated about five miles from Washington, D.C., in Prince theorge's county, Md. It contains 178; acres, more than 30 of which is a fine alluvial meadow, preducing a ton and a half of hay to the acre, but which under improved cultivation would produce at least two tons. Hay sells in the Washington market at from $15 to $30 per ton. About four acres of the place is a marsh, covered with several feet in thickness of black earth, the result of decayed vegetation, which, properly composted, is a source from which the upland may be enriched at a reasonable cost. About 60 acres of the farm is woodland—growth principally oak and chestnut. The land, except the meadow, is undulating, and affords many beautiful sites for building. There are many springs of excellent water on the place, and it is noted for its healthfulness. The soil of the greater part of the upland is a sandy loam, underlaid by clay—in some places, clay predominating. About 75 acres could be divided into small gardening farms, giving nearly an equal quantity of wood ting. About to acres could be divided into small gar-dening farms, giving nearly an equal quantity of wood and arable land to each. There is an orchard of 150 peach trees and 60 apple trees on the place, all bear-ing. The farm is well fenced. The buildings are—a log-house of four rooms, with a frame addition of three rooms, a meat-house of san-dried brick, a log kitchen countries from the dealling a corn bear styling as rooms, a meat-boase of san-arred brick, a log kitchen separate from the dwelling, a corn-house, stable, carriage-house, &c. There is a stream of water running through the place, with sufficient water and fall for a small mill. Price, $50 per acre. Terms—one third cash; a long credit for the residue, if desired; or, it would be exchanged for real estate in the city of Washington. Address

Fifty acres, about half of which is woodland, and which could be divided into three gardening farms, with woodland and a beautiful building site to each,
would be sold separately. Or, if preferred, I will sell the other part of the farm, on which are the buildings, orchard, and meadow, which cannot be conveniently divided.

BACON'S MERCANTILE COLLEGE. Northwest corner of Sixth and Walnut streets,

Cincinnati, Ohio.

Northwest corner of Sixth and Walnut streets,
Cincinnati, Ohio.

The undersigned has removed his Mercantile College to his new building, northwest corner of Walnut and Sixth streets, where he has fitted up a splendid suite of rooms, expressly for his business—having spared neither pains nor expense in making them in every respect the most convenient and pleasant school rooms in the United States.

The plan adopted in teaching combines practice—with theory: instead of using books, the pupils are exercised in making original entries of every-day business transactions. Journalizing, posting, balancing accounts, opening and closing of a great variety of different sets of books, both for partnership and individual business, where the business has been prosperous and adverse; and thus qualifying the student for entering into the practical duties of the accountant, in any kind of business.

The course of instruction will consist of Double-entry Book-keeping, embracing every department of trade and mercantile accounts, via: Wholesale, Retail, Commission, Exchange, Banking, Manufacturing, Shipping, Individual, Partnership, Steamboating, and Compound Co. Business. Commercial Calculations, Practical Penmanstip, and Lectures on Commercial Law; also, Lectures on the Science of Accounts, Custom of Merchants, etc.

In addition to the regular course of study, the undersigned has made arrangements with Henry Snow, Esq., Hon. Bellamy Storer, Prof C. W. Wright, and other eminent lecturers, to deliver a course of Lectures on the subjects of Commercial Law, History of Commerce, Political Economy as connected with commerce, and other subjects of great importance in a commercial point of view, and never before introduced in any Mercantile College in the United States.

Pupils are instructed individually, and not in class es; so that students may enter at any time, and proceed in the ratio of their capacity and assiduity.

Public examinations are had, (though pupils are examined privately, if they desire it,) when the student undergoe

Mr. Bacon is unrivalled as a teacher—a diploma from his College, in Cincinnati, is required as a sine quis non in obtaining situations in the best mercan-tile houses in large cities. From the Cincinnuti Gazette, Nov. 8, 1853. Mr. Bacon has constructed the upper portion of his building expressly for the purposes of his College, and, without any doubt, it is the most complete ar-rangement of the kind in the United States.

conted in the village of McGrawville, in the county of Cortland, New York, was founded in 1849, upon the broad principles of "Equal Rights and Chris-tian Reform," and is open to all persons of both sexes, of good moral character. Sexes, of good moral character.

It has been the purpose of the Trustees of this School, from the first, to make it both safe and inviting to Students; and we believe we may now safely recommend it, under the supervision and care of President Leonard G. Calkins, whose ability for that responsible office has been most happily tested, assisted by a competent 'Board of Instruction.' Free from the unholy influence of larger towns, and pervaded by moral influences, republican habits, and Christian example, associated with manual labor, we think parents must feel a degree of security, begotten by no other set of circumstances.

One arrangement in this Institution, not to be overlooked in this day of "public speaking," is a Rhetorical Class, with daily exercises in extemporaneous speaking, under the careful training of the President. The student of small means, aspiring to a thorough intellectual education by his own energies, will find in this College sympathy and aid in his arduous and noble work.
